Strength on Reaching Madison Estimated at 2,000 to 10,000.

HELD SUICIDE TO ADVANCE

By Charles F. Keeney, Leader in District 17 of United Mine Workers, in Face of Fact That Federal Troops May Be Called, Men Will Organized

By Associated Press.
MADISON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—The advance guard of the marching miners on their way from Marmet to Kingsport, Tenn., to take the strike to the state capital, was held back by Charles F. Keeney, president of District No. 17, United Mine Workers and Fred Monney, secretary, after it had passed through Madison shortly after noon today.

The march, numbering 500 or 600, had camped in a hollow here for dinner and then pressed on their way toward the Logan county line. Keeney and Monney, who left Charleston early today with the advance, intention of stopping the march, reached Madison a half-hour after the men left. After a brief conference with county officials they hurried down the road and induced the men to march back to Madison.

The men camped in the court house yard and Keeney said he was awaiting the arrival of federal troops to take them to the "hollow" grounds where he expected to address them.

"The men have come a long distance and are not feeling very good about this situation," said President Keeney. "I shall do all in my power to turn them back and just as soon as the rest of the men come in from the mountains I'll talk to them. It is no easy job."

"I never saw so many men on the march before," said President Keeney. "I shall do all in my power to turn them back and just as soon as the rest of the men come in from the mountains I'll talk to them. It is no easy job."

Secretary Monney said: "It would be a mistake for the men to advance. General Bandholtz seems to command the state. He's summoned Keeney and me at 10 o'clock this morning to come to the state capital. He wants to stop the march."

Monney said that the marchers were not to be allowed to pass the state line. He said that the marchers were not to be allowed to pass the state line. He said that the marchers were not to be allowed to pass the state line.

MADISON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—The advance guard of the marching miners, who are marching from Marmet to Kingsport, arrived here at noon today. They pitched camp in a hollow near the business center and awaited the coming of the remainder of the force which, it was said, was struggling along the road at Peytonia where the main body had stopped for dinner.

As the men marched into town they were met by a man who told the president that he had been "an army man for nine years" and that his force were organized along the lines of an army. The commissary department, he said, was in charge of the march and the commissary was in charge of the march and the commissary was in charge of the march.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Aug. 26.—Between 500 and 600 federal troops were marching to leave Camp Sherman here today for West Virginia. Approximately 150 men from Columbus arrived here at 8:30 and were immediately ordered by all available federal troops to march to the state capital.

Spanish War Veteran Who Ran Away From Manila Hospital to Fight Dies

Joseph Earl Shaw, 42 years old, a Spanish War veteran, and a former well-known Connellsville resident, died this morning at 5:30 o'clock in the Uniontown hospital of heart trouble. His death was not unexpected, his illness having dated back to 18 months ago. Mr. Shaw had been a resident of New Kensington since 1912 and on August 22, his brother-in-law, Charles M. Poe, of Uniontown, went to New Kensington and brought him to the Uniontown hospital where he was given the best of medical attention and died with no relief.

Mr. Shaw was born in Connellsville, Pa., on October 1, 1878, a son of Caroline H. Shaw and the late Joseph V. Shaw of Connellsville. He was educated in the Connellsville public schools and when a young man he learned the tailoring trade and was employed as a tailor at the Uniontown hospital for some time. When he was 18 years old he joined the Company D of the old "Fighting Tenth" and served with the company during the Spanish war. He was wounded in the battle of Manila. Mr. Shaw was in the hospital and just before the battle in which the city of Manila was taken by the American troops he ran away from the institution and, despite his wounds, joined big company. He returned to the hospital in the morning after the city was taken and the doctor who was in charge of the ward gave him a general lecture.

Following the war Mr. Shaw returned to Connellsville to reside. He also was a tailor at Seaside at one time and was following his trade while located at New Kensington. He united with the Methodist Protestant church of Connellsville in his boyhood and had a host of friends here. His mother, who resides in Connellsville, two sisters, Mrs. Charles M. Poe of Uniontown and Mrs. E. W. Horner of Connellsville, survive.

The body, accompanied by C. M. Poe, was brought to Connellsville this morning and removed to the chapel of the Methodist Protestant church, Full military honors will be accorded Mr. Shaw. Camp Walter E. Brown Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which the deceased was a member, will hold a service at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. H. Lambert, pastor of the church, will deliver the sermon. The interment will be made in Hill Grove cemetery.

PROHIBITIONISTS AND DEMOCRATS GROW FEWER IN FAYETTE
A check of the nominating petitions filed in Uniontown by candidates for the coming primary election shows that not a single petition was filed by a Prohibition candidate for a county office and but very few for the local offices. Ballots for the Prohibition party will be published as always. Not a woman candidate signed to a county office and the majority of those seeking office were for that of school director. The absence of the Democratic petitions was very pronounced, notwithstanding the fact that the number of petitions filed this year far exceeds that of any previous election.

The clerks in the county commissioners' office had fairly emerged from the deluge of petitions which swamped the office when the time for filing expired yesterday evening. The petitions have all been filed and a check was begun late yesterday and will be completed by late this evening. The candidates have been mailed notice of the hour they shall appear before the commissioners the first three days of next week to cast lots for their position on the ballots. The lottery will be staged in Court Room No. 2, the post hall game being used.

Street Inspector William McCormick was on the West Side this morning with some laborers and swept the street and then asked it with a hose in preparation for resurfacing it.

Each side of the street will be done separately so that traffic won't be blocked.

TROOP 5 OF BOY SCOUTS WINNER OF LOVING CUP

Scores 37 Points at Legion Picnic to 20 for Nearest Competitor, Troop 3.

W. H. SHAW GIVEN FLAG

While many who secured a holiday through the closing of the stores for the second annual Legion community picnic, held by the Milton L. Bishop post at Golfpark, 2000 or more enjoyed themselves at the park yesterday. The arguments marked a distinct departure from those of other years. There was no demand for prohibitive duties. It was agreed that a policy would be run by the industry in view of the necessity for encouraging export trade.

Although declaring the industry suffering from the worst depression in its history, this was ascribed to the economic upheaval resulting from the war. Unemployment of business throughout the world and high transportation and labor costs at home were declared to be at the bottom of the present ill-effects.

Among those who appeared were John A. Topping, chairman of the board of the Republic Iron & Steel company, who spoke for the independent group; C. A. Buck, vice-president of the Republic Steel Corporation; A. C. Dinkley, president of the Republic Steel Corporation; J. A. Campbell, president of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company; Willis L. King, vice-president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company; S. P. Kerr of the Sharon Steel Hoop company; W. H. Abbott and J. M. Scott of the Wheeling Steel Corporation; J. A. Matthews of New York, representing the Crucible Steel manufacturers; and E. R. Crawford of McKeesport, president of the McKeesport Tin Plate company, who also represented the Association of Tin Plate Manufacturers, and Clifford Taylor of Pittsburgh, representing the Bethlehem Corporation of America.

Duties on raw materials as proposed in the Fordney bill would add a total of $24,000,000 annually to steel costs in the United States, Chairman Topping asserted. He told the committee the industry is dependent on low production costs. Senators were informed the American valuation provision in the tariff bill is "strongly opposed by the steel industry."

"The proposed tariff on finished products is, generally speaking, satisfactory to the industry," Topping said. "The tariff on raw materials is the Republican policy of free raw materials and protection for finished products. Give us the same treatment as in the Payne-Adams bill on raw materials and we will accept your bill as it stands on finished products."

RAW MATERIAL DUTY OPPOSED BY INDEPENDENTS

Rates Proposed Would Add $24,000,000 Year in Steel Costs.

MODERATE PROTECTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Independent steel manufacturers appeared before the Senate finance committee on Thursday to oppose duties on raw materials, ask nominal duties on alloys and urge "moderate" protection for finished products.

Their arguments marked a distinct departure from those of other years. There was no demand for prohibitive duties. It was agreed that a policy would be run by the industry in view of the necessity for encouraging export trade.

Although declaring the industry suffering from the worst depression in its history, this was ascribed to the economic upheaval resulting from the war. At a meeting of the school board last night, six teachers, completing the high school faculty for the next term, were elected. The meeting was called for the purpose of holding the election as the opening of the term is drawing near.

An athletic director was elected to succeed J. P. Rupp, who resigned to take a similar position with the Connellsville high school near Pittsburgh. Charles H. Wine, a graduate of Lehigh Valley college, the same as that attended by Mr. Rupp, will fill the position and in addition to handling the gym work will coach the school athletics.

The other teachers elected included Miss Alice Child, a graduate of Oberlin college, and Miss Frances Nunnally, a graduate of Mount Holyoke college, to teach English, in the high school; Miss Abner Weaver, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, to teach Latin; Stanley First, a Pennsylvania State graduate, and Harry Seaman, graduated from Mansfield State Normal school, to teach arithmetic in the junior department of the high school.

Through the election of Mr. Wine as athletic director the same policy in that line of school activities instituted last year by Mr. Rupp will be continued. Both played football and basketball under the same coaches and each uses the same principles in teaching the game to their players.

Mr. Rupp gave much time to installing football knowledge into the players' minds, and he will have something to work on.

In order to get training under way Mr. Wine will be at the high school building at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening to meet all candidates for the position of getting in a week of practice before school opens and much depends on the interest displayed by these who anticipate playing.

For twenty hours this food is baked—one reason why it digests so easily.

One of the important things in connection with any cereal food is to have it thoroughly baked or cooked. For baking or cooking changes the starch of the grains.

Grape-Nuts is the longest baked of all cereal foods. It is scientifically baked at carefully regulated temperatures for 20 hours. This is one of the reasons why Grape-Nuts digests so easily; why it agrees with many people who cannot take any other form of cereal without producing fermentation.

A goodly part of Grape-Nuts is converted into dextrose, ready to be immediately assimilated by the system, and yield strength and energy. A further portion has partially undergone this change, while there remains sufficient unchanged cereal to strengthen the digestive organs. It is then in a condition to meet the various requirements of the digestive system.

If you want to eat a most strengthening and nourishing food, and one that will digest more readily, go to your grocer today and get a package of Grape-Nuts. Eat it with cream, fruit or as a cereal with milk or steam or make it into an appetizing pudding.

Every member of the family will enjoy its delicious flavor and wholesomeness.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disagreeable as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupefy the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable and vicious remedies that from childhood had become almost universal. This was the inception of the reason for the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers, Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

CONGRESS: "William Tell Did It! Why Can't I?"

of medical inspection in the State. Do of medical inspection has suggested a some simple precautions that will go a long way towards wiping out typhoid fever:

- 1.—Promiscuous drinking from springs and wells throughout the country should be avoided. All water from "untested" sources should be boiled.
- 2.—Sanitary ordinances to control contaminated milk should be passed and enforced.
- 3.—Dairy farm inspection should be instituted before milk permits are issued (including medical examination of all dairymen and employees, and thorough inspection of farms of all persons on dairy lands, and those handling dairy products) should be promptly reported.

Some valuable information relative to pasture improvement has come to County Agent Rumberger from extension specialists at the Pennsylvania State college who have just completed work on a bulletin on pasture experiments with the aid of county extension representatives. Excellent results have been obtained from the use of lime, acid phosphate and clover seed.

The permanent pasture problem is at times a most difficult one, but sowing fresh seed without improving the fertility is generally useless. Manure, when available, gives a good return on pastures. Lidsa, phosporic acid or manure may be applied either in spring or autumn, but the most convenient if seed is sown during the summer, it should be harrowed in.

In the course of the demonstration, some almost worthless hill pastures in Gretna were treated with 1000 pounds of hydrated lime or a ton of ground limestone per acre applied in the spring of 1920, with 300 pounds of acid phosphate. Clover and grass seed were sown, a good stand of clover was secured, and there is a good stand of clover and grass this summer. In other instances lime and phosphate were put on sods that were constantly pastured, and the white clover has come out well. The following reference for the treated plots, practically doubled in productivity. Fertilizer and lime treatment for pastures is recommended by the county agent at least once in a life, or to the minute.

A plate of ice cream may not contain a stick of dynamite and a glass of milk may be quite free from a virus, but when taken together, the combination may be deadly. In the case of typhoid, the safety of either as food and drink is all right with typhoid symptoms appearing in various parts of the body. It behooves each individual to learn the safe-hanging possibilities of her milk of tar.

Milk (including milk products) that have become adulterated is a common source of typhoid infection. There are a variety of ways by which this happens.

Carrollsville is a village of 1,500 farmers and dairymen. The former was the larger part of the patient and dairy was the single forerunner of one epidemic. Milk cooled in the spring of 1914, and the dairymen were supplied with bottled water, some of which was returned to the cans, started on a string of cases of typhoid infection. A growing milk business needed more cows, and the dairymen had had typhoid (typhoid was not milk fever), probably from the milk. It was thought to start the dairymen, among reasons in a dairy country, for the epidemic.

The chief source of infection was milk from the source of infection, and eventually gets the epidemic under control. But in local milk ordinance adequately enforced would have prevented these disasters in the first place.

Nothing to read typewritten sheets of typhoid statistics. It is another matter to visit in an epidemic district to discover an eight-year-old child trying to learn how the typhoid-stricken grown-up in the family, to find a case of typhoid in the infant and child dependent for their recovery upon the initiative of outsiders; to hear the anxious call in the cheerless voice of another patient that she is the only support of her white-haired blind mother; to witness the honest and private nurse as summoned and great is their skillful service; but it is not only nursing that they do for their extra large family, chaperoning a busy party to the placarded hospital, to say if you wish to visit the family, to go to the child. The greatest tragedy, though, is to realize that with a superior milk supply typhoid epidemics could

PURPOSE.

Dead to think I had to be making up a name for me, and I was thinking that I must show the old world new much I know and must confess that I was not the public's choice. Then your mother came along and I found that I was wrong.

"I found my job was not to make pleasure for my selfish self, but to be glad with the very best I had. Little things and more I want to do for the benefit of my fellow men. I lived for her, until you arrived with wants to fill."

"When you came, your mother and I were so happy. I have a little child, and I am so glad to have you. We reason now to be brave and strong and kind and do the best we can. We are so glad to have you. We must all come to joy in life. But he shall come to joy. We must struggle for our boy."

"I love your mother and from you I have taught the broader view of life. I have learned that I must be a man of the world and strive to be a man of the world's strife. I have learned money or my fame. Are life honors you may want. So that I may be a man for my mother that you may be."

OVEN LIST INCREASED, WITH RESULTANT PRODUCTION GAIN

Total Tonnage for Week Ended August 20 Shows Gain of 1,190.

FINE SHOWING FOR MONTH

Since July 23 Production Has Advanced From 21,320 to 26,550 Tons or Nearly 71 Per Cent; Strike at Quincy Plants Will Have Effect.

From The Weekly Courier.—The outstanding feature of the coke industry in the Connellsville region during the current week was the strike of employees at W. J. Baileys, Inc., following the reduction in wages announced Friday of last week and the subsequent demand made on the company by employees for restoration of rates of pay to the level fixed by the R. C. Frick Coke Company in its scale of July 15. Operations were suspended at five plants of the company and the output of coke in the region will be consequently reduced, although the time of suspension the company was operating on a basis of 70 per cent of capacity.

The estimated production of coke during the week ending Saturday, August 20, was 26,550 tons, credited to the two districts as follows: Connellsville, 11,410, a gain of 700 tons; Lower Connellsville, 25,140, a gain of 400 tons, or a total gain of 1,100 tons. By interests, the production was: Fairbairn, 12,700, an increase of 80 tons; merchant, 24,250, an increase of 1,130 tons.

The change in the active oven list resulted in a loss of 31, all except one at Fairbairn, Pa. The decreases were: Oliver No. 1, 25; Geneva, 30, a total of 55. The gains were: Pullman Nos. 1 and 2, 10; Oliver No. 3, five, or a net increase of 31.

Since July 23 production has increased from 21,320 tons to 26,550 tons, a gain of 5,230 tons or 24.5 per cent during the period of four months. The increase is the result of the addition of 46 ovens to the active list, a gain of practically 30 per cent, and the fuller schedules of operation at some of the larger plants now in production.

How to Make Real Peach Jelly

Ripe Peach "Fruit" Easily Preserved.

By a Jam Maker

The finest peach jelly you ever tasted—chock full of the natural flavor and color—can be made at home within a few minutes after the peaches are sliced or crushed. I like the "Certo Process" as I can use ripe peaches and because it takes only one minute's boiling, thus saving flavor and color; it never fails, and is cheaper because I get two-thirds more jelly from the same amount of peaches.

The Certo Process for making peach jelly is very simple. Put cooked fruit in jelly bag and squeeze out as much juice as possible. Carefully measure 6½ leveled cups (2½ lbs.) sugar and then 2 cups (1½ lbs.) juice from cooked fruit into large saucepan (5 or 6 qt. size) and bring to boil. At once add 1 bottle of (certified) Certo, stirring constantly. Continue to stir and bring again to a hard boil over the hottest fire for one-half minute, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, let stand one minute, skin and pour quickly into glasses. Makes 10 half-pint glasses of jelly.

By this short "Certo Process" you save all the color and flavor that is boiled away by the old method. Time and worry are also saved and you have 5 pounds of jelly from 3 pounds of peaches as compared to 1 pound of jelly by the old method. The above recipe and many others for making delicious jellies and jams by the "Certo Process" is found in the Certo book of recipes, a copy of which will be given to you by your grocer or druggist when you get Certo. Extra copies will be sent free if you write to the Fectin Sales Co., Inc., 350 East Avenue, Rochester, N. Y. Use Certo this year in making all your jams and jellies. It saves time, worry and boiling. The "Certo Process" never fails and saves money, because you make two thirds more jam from the same amount of fruit. Important—Certo is "mother nature's jelly maker"—the pure concentrated jelly making principle of fruit contains no gelatin, chemical or preservative, and because of the fact that it saves time, money, color and flavor and never fails, has revolutionized the art of jam and jelly making. Every housewife should use it—Advertisement.

Why We Started. We sat in front of them at the theater. It was during the tense minute of the play when the heroine was about to dart forward from her sweet-heart. "Say," said the woman behind us to her friend: "Do you break many dishes? You know I'm awfully unlucky that way."

Why Look for Trouble? "Did you ever have any words with your landlord?" "I once exchanged a couple of brisk remarks with him."

"What did he have to say?" "He informed me he had a great deal to say, but I never went around to hear what it was."

Many Chances. North—Do you think there are the opportunities in this country, that there used to be?

West—Certainly. For instance, the population of the United States is 105,000,000, yet the seating capacity of the moving picture shows is less than 50,000,000.

It costs us a huge sum to give you purer Ice Cream

To make our ice cream super-pure costs us an enormous sum each year. But we consider it money well-spent because it protects your health and the health of your children. We are the only manufacturers using the costly new "Headmade Carbonated" process in manufacturing ice cream in this locality. But this process insures an ice cream that we know is super-pure.

Carbonated Ice Cream Is "Different from the others"

If you examined ice cream under a microscope you would find that it is full of bubbles. In ordinary ice cream those bubbles are full of air—the common air we breathe never quite pure. We make our ice cream in a sterile atmosphere, germ proof and 100 times purer than air. It is pure. It is healthy. It is safe.

Not only purest but best.

Our ice cream is not only purest but it is also best. The Carbonating brings out the delicate fragrance of the flavors, the sweetness of the fruits, the smoothness of the rich cream. When you buy ice cream insist on our CARBONATED ice cream, because it is best.

problem of unemployment? "I have only studied a few individual cases" replied the sardonic citizen. "In these the problem seemed to consist in figuring how to do as little work as possible without going broke."

Better Authority. "It was Shakespeare, wasn't it, who said: 'Sweet are the uses of adversity'?" "Shakespeare may have said it originally, but I heard it from a lawyer who had pocketed 60 per cent of an estate."

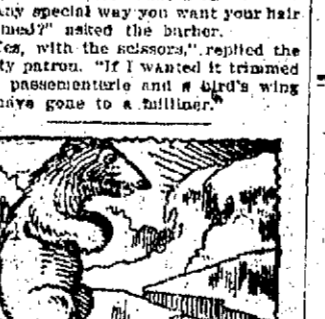

How He Wanted It. "Any special way you want your hair trimmed?" asked the barber. "Yes, with the scissors," replied the crusty patron. "If I wanted it trimmed with pincettes and a girl's wig I'd have gone to a hairdresser."

HE'S LUCKY. Polar Bear: Thank goodness the price of ice hasn't gone up around here yet.

Versatile. "Woman is versatile, by heck!" "How, now?" "She'll use one man's life by not marrying him and another's by marrying him, by heck."

Summer Board. "Yes, I boarded with that farmer all last summer." "Seems a quaint character. I suppose he has bought a gold brick?"

Fine for Writers. Inspiration hit—It flows freely. This is a sign we have never seen, but we hope to see it some day in a notion store.

The rest of them will stay at the post-School camp at Rogers Mill. Any member of the team who can not go or is unable to play, is asked to call the Y. M. C. A. so that arrangements can be made accordingly.

TORNADO JUNIORS LISTING GAMES

The 1920-21 football team known as the North End Lions, will be on the field again this year. It is announced only under a new name. The team will be known this season as the Tornado Juniors. The United Presbyterians will play the First Presbyterians tonight at Fayette field. It was understood that the game was scheduled to be played last evening, but there was a misunderstanding on the part of the players.

Though suffering the third consecutive defeat at the hands of the Giants yesterday, the Pirates hold a lead of four and a half games in the National league race. The Cleveland Indians got back into first place in the American league by defeating the Yankees.

Cleveland has protested the game of Wednesday in which it lost to New York, 3-2. The protest resulted from alleged interference of Shortstop Fackinbaugh of the Yankees with catcher Steve O'Neill, preventing the latter from making a play on outfielder Miller going to third base. After Fackinbaugh had bunted in the ninth inning, Miller later scored the winning run.

A near riot broke out in the last half of the eighth inning of the New York-Cleveland game at Cleveland yesterday. Harper hit Jamieson in the ribs, Gardner on the arm, and O'Neill in the back. O'Neill, enraged, grabbed the ball and threw it wide of Harper. The two then squared off to see their fists but were separated before either had inflicted any damage. O'Neill and pitcher Percy then were chased. Mounted policemen came on the field when the game ended and protected New York players and the umpires from molestation.

All members of Boy Scout Troop No. 1 are requested to attend the weekly meeting of the troop at the Ballroom & Ohio Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All new Scouts are especially invited to attend as some of them will be initiated.

YOUTH VALLEY WORSTED BY CHARLEROI

Youth Valley lost yesterday to Charleroi at Dickerson Run, 2-0. The game was played on the second of one in the sixth inning. Youth Valley scored in the first inning, getting only three hits off Martin. The game was a pitching duel between Wells and Martin. Both teams played errorless ball.

The scores by innings:

Charleroi 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 5 0 Youth Valley 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Probable Winners

In National Race

Here September 8

When George Gibson's Pittsburgh Pirates of the National league drop into Connelville on September 8 for a game with the Connelville Independents local fans are to have the rare privilege of getting a look at the team that has the inside track to the pennant in the National league race. That the Pittsburgh boys are pretty sure to be on top at the finish is not guesswork, but the assertion is made after a very close analysis of the playing talent in the league. One does not have to go far in trying the playing strength of the various clubs in the old circuit to come to the decision that in every department of the game the Buccaneers have the edge on their opponents.

In pitchers, Adams, Cooper, Hamilton, Zinn, Carlson, Glazner, Morrison and Yellow Horse, not to mention Rader and others, Gibson has a staff of hurlers that have not only withstood the rigors of the hot pace set during far in the league race, but show no sign of breaking in effectiveness and altogether likely will not be stopped until the bell rings.

On the other end of the battery the Buccos are well fortified. Walter Schmidt, who heads the catching brigade, has proven in the past couple of years that he is second to none in his line. One of the smartest receivers in the business and with his wonderful knowledge of the game, he is one of the main wheels in Gibson's beautiful machine that has set the pace through all the present season. Schmidt is ably assisted by Brotem and Wilson.

No outfield in the National, it is indeed, is the majors, shows up in better advantage in all round ability than that of the Pirates made up of Carey, Bigbee and Whitted, with Robertson and Rohrer to jump in if any of the three regulars falls by the wayside. Then, too, this trio of outfielders are all speed merchants and mainly responsible for keeping the Pirates high in the league base stealing honors. Carey's base stealing record is too well known to stand to need elaboration.

Of course "Rabbit" Maranville is the big works in the infield. He seems to have greatly improved this season and has a great little man to work with him at second base in the person of Jim Thorpe, a newcomer who is making good with a vengeance for Gibson. Clyde Barnett, heralded as a second baseman, holds down the third base while Charlie Grimm takes care of the infield with his marvelous fielding.

All in all, it is one of the best major league aggregations gotten together in years and will perform here against the locals on September 8.

Itself and the players and supporters and heart, and soul in the game.

When a ball game is played in Connelville, especially against a team of note, the entire town goes out and it is not a surprise to find that the team support is a thing that is making the town a place of great interest and excitement.

The team is made up of local talent and the team is one of such well rounded playing ability that it has never been necessary to import any one to fill weak spots.

The games are played in a big field near the old quarry. The diamond is a fine one. The soil has been scraped off and the earth is level and solid. The outfield is equally level, only Babe Ruth could knock a home run through right field into the Casselman river. A set of bleachers has been erected and then others use the track of the Northern Ohio railroad on a high embankment along the third base line.

Today the team is scheduled to play The American-Mandeville outfit of Dunbar. While adequate information carried the news of the strength of the visiting aggregation, the local voters of the home team are planning to a heavy gun of moral support that could muster.

Already there is talk of a basketball team that will make any outfit travel. There are some classy teams in Connelville and it now seems that with the organizing element at the head of sports there, something might be done to keep things going.

But she saw that he was both nervous and apprehensive, and she knew that the inference she and Cherry had drawn from the letter was a true one.

"Does Martin presently miffed?" Cherry asked.

"Do you want her to?" Alix asked, pointedly.

He shrugged his shoulders with a great assumption of indifference.

"If she wants to have it all dragged to light, why she can go ahead," he remarked, carelessly. "I'm not stopping her."

"At least I think you ought to let Cherry lead her own life after this," Alix countered with spirit.

"Live in your old house, eh?" he asked, resentfully, as he flipped the pages of the program with a big thumb and stared at it with unseeing eyes.

"What does she want to live there for?"

"The fact remains that she does," Alix persisted.

"You know," he said, "I have just as good a time as if she never had been married at all," he said.

and his books, than like the passionately unimpaired Peter who had been so changed by love for Cherry. Martin, satisfied with the general respect and consideration with which he found himself surrounded, accepted his life placidly enough; perhaps he had been disturbed by the advent of the letter, perhaps he was willing to let the question of an adjustment between Cherry and himself rest. It amused him to help get the house ready for a tenant, and from the fact that Cherry talked no more of living there, and made no comment upon his frequent reference to their departure on Monday, he deduced that she had come to her senses.

Cherry, too, was less unhappy than she had been. By avoiding Peter, by retreating even to words and looks from the companionship for which she so hungered, by devoting herself to Alix, she managed to hold her feelings in leash. Even though Alix found that the knowledge of the secret they shared without eye meeting stood between them like a screen, the sisters, busy about the house, had wonderful hours, together.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Saturday came, a perfect day that filled the little valley to the brim with golden sunshine. Alix, driving alone to the mountain cabin, stared in the morning freshness at the blue overhead and said aloud, "Oh, what a day of gold!"

The dog, sitting beside her on the front seat, flapped his tail in answer to her voice, and she laughed at him. But the laugh was quickly followed by a sharp sigh.

"Saturday," she mused, "and Martin expects Cherry to go with him on Monday! Expect her to go back with him to a life of misery for her, existence with a man she hates! Oh, Cherry—my little sister!—there can be no happiness for you there! And Peter! Peter is left behind to me, who cannot comfort him or still the ache that is tearing his heart! My two loved ones, and what can I do to help them?"

She had come up to the cabin to do the usual little daily thing among the ducks and chickens and to bring Peter, if Peter had not gone into town, back with her to Cherry's house. They had all dined in the old Strickland house the night before, and because of a sudden rainfall had decided to spend the night there, too. The Chinese boy who had been helping the sisters with their housecleaning had been persuaded to cook the dinner and get breakfast, and the evening about the old fireplace had been almost too poignantly sweet.

But suddenly, at about ten o'clock, Peter had surprised them all by getting to his feet. He was going up to the cabin, he said—must go, in fact. He would rather walk, please, he told Alix, when she offered to drive him up in the car. Reconsidered and a little apprehensive, she let him go. To Cherry, who seemed to feel suddenly sad and weary, Alix laughed at it but she was secretly worried herself, and immediately after breakfast the next morning decided to run up to the cabin in the car, and reassure herself that everything was right there.

"Where Mr. Peter Go Now?" she asked.

Cherry, who had not slept and who was pale, had come out to the car, her distracted manner increasing Alix's sense that something was gravely amiss. She started on her trip with a heavy heart, but the half-hour's run soothed her in spite of herself, and now she reached the cabin in a much more cheerful mood.

Peter was nowhere about, and as she plunged into the work of house and farmyard she supposed, without giving the matter a conscious thought, that he had gone to the city.

"Mr. Peter not go to town?" How announced presently.

All Alix's vague suspicions

awakened.

"Not go to town?" she asked with a premonitory pang.

For under a large gesture, as indicating affairs disorganized,

"Him no go to bed," he further stated. "Boss come late. He walking on porch."

"He came inside and walked on the porch?" Alix asked in a low tone, as if to herself. "Where Mr. Peter go now?" she asked. "He have some coffee?"

A New Taste in Coffee Created By an Artist

THERE is romance and artistry in the production of a perfectly matched string of pearls. Experts in this work will tell you that even after the divers have brought them from the ocean depths, months of patient effort are necessary to match each pearl. Artisans engaged in this work are guided to perfection by their sense of artistic judgment.

FRANCO-AMERICAN Coffee has been achieved by the application of this known artistic factor. Coffee characters were carefully blended until the creator was able to obtain the flavor and zest that pleases your palate.

You may have this Franco-American Coffee in your own home. All good dealers carry it.

Cherry, who had not slept and who was pale, had come out to the car, her distracted manner increasing Alix's sense that something was gravely amiss. She started on her trip with a heavy heart, but the half-hour's run soothed her in spite of herself, and now she reached the cabin in a much more cheerful mood.

Peter was nowhere about, and as she plunged into the work of house and farmyard she supposed, without giving the matter a conscious thought, that he had gone to the city.

"Mr. Peter not go to town?" How announced presently.

All Alix's vague suspicions

awakened.

"Not go to town?" she asked with a premonitory pang.

For under a large gesture, as indicating affairs disorganized,

"Him no go to bed," he further stated. "Boss come late. He walking on porch."

"He came inside and walked on the porch?" Alix asked in a low tone, as if to herself. "Where Mr. Peter go now?" she asked. "He have some coffee?"

CHIC NEGLIGEEES FOR SUMMER

For Wearables That Are Switching Daily for Home Wear During Sweltering Days.

The leisure hours of warm weather require cool negligees. Beautifully fitting for summer mornings is a breakfast coat of batiste, in pink, blue, orchid or lemon, trimmed with picot-edged points. The coat is cut to fall considerably below the hips and there is lengthened by a flounce of the material, with a double row of the picot points. A long roll collar to the waist is also outlined with the picot points, and short sleeves are likewise edged. A bit of greenish shade in a contrasting shade forms a slim girdle at the normal waistline and drops in long ends at the front.

Could anything be more wearable and cool when one slips one's morning coffee than a dotted voile coat with pretty ruffled decoration? A white voile background is plentifully dotted in pink, blue or lavender dots and the coat is cut on the long fashionable lines so becoming to the average figure.

The lower flounce is set on by a cord and the ruffled borders the bottom. Collar and tiny turn-back cuffs. Big patch pockets adorn the front.

In organdie, plain and dotted fabrics are used. A white organdie frock, embroidered in hand-drawn dots makes a simple slip-on affair with two bands of plain white organdie on the skirt and a deep shawl collar and cuffs of white on the blouse. Buttonhole stitch is used for the outline of the trimmings. After the bath or cold shower what could be more soothing than a button-front of brushed cotton, ratine loosely striped? One smart model, cut with short sleeves and body in one, is bordered and collared in self-material and piped with silk cord. A long silk cord drapes the about the waist and is fastened at the ends. These good-looking bathrobes, come in purple, rose, peacock or burnt orange.

THE SONSON

"THE SCARAB KING" will alter Joyce, the beautiful Vitaphone star in a starring role in the feature picture today and tomorrow.

The story of "The Scarab King" has an unusual twist. It has many big spectacular scenes, requires an exceptionally large cast and gives Alice Joyce a role unlike anything in which she has previously appeared.

A cast of capable players support Alice Joyce in the production. Joe King, a well-known screen player, who appeared with Corinne Griffith in "The Broadway Baby," plays opposite the star. He gives an unusual interpretation for the role. Suspense and mystery interwoven with a keen love interest should make the picture popular with all who see it.

Beautiful scenic backgrounds, excellent costumes that are sure to please the women, the last word in beautiful elements of love, suspense and mystery cleverly interwoven in a story that holds the attention from the first flash, are the things of which "The Scarab King" boasts and which will make for it an enviable place in the hall of fame.

THE PARAMOUNT.

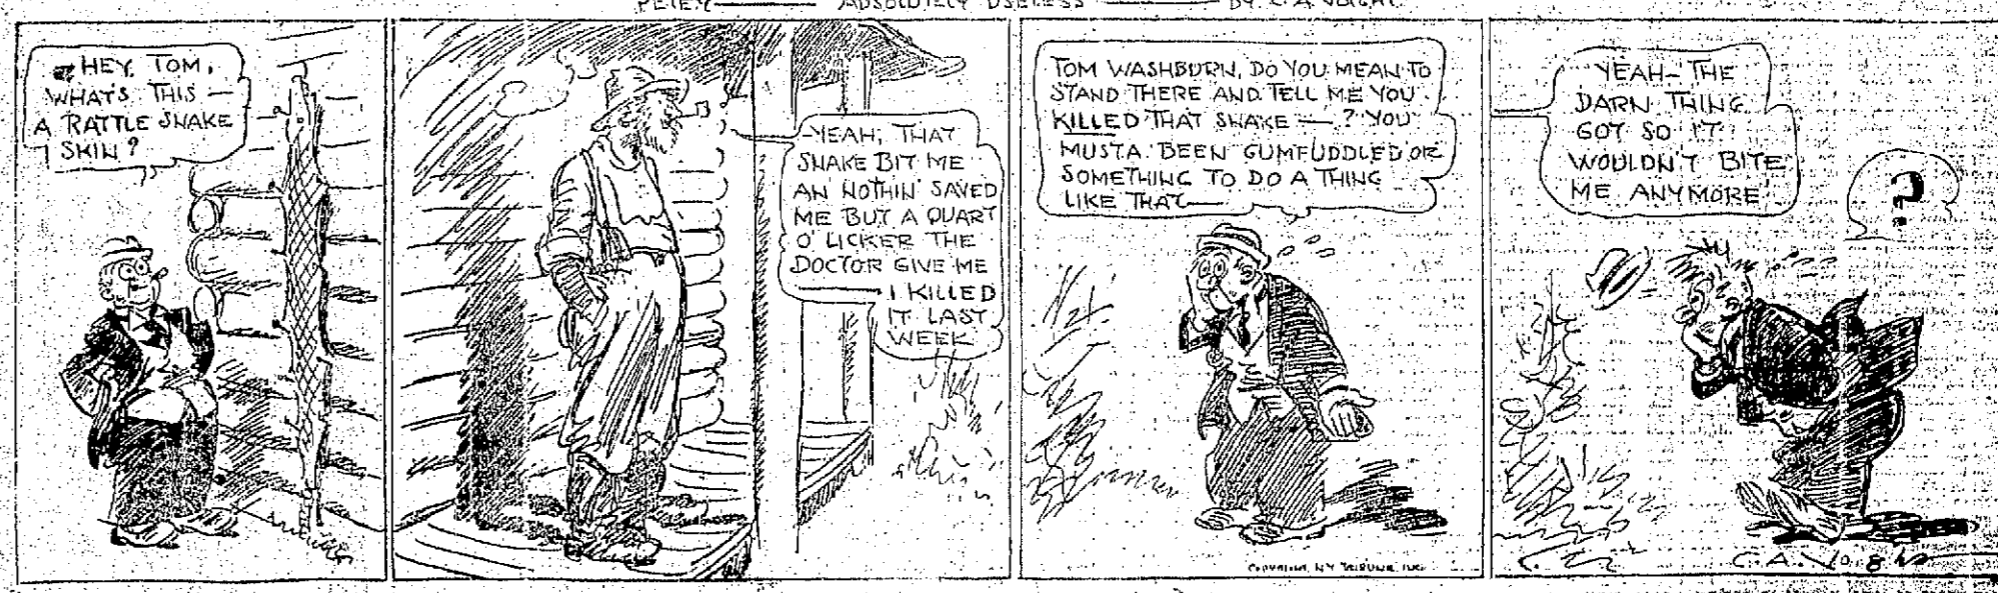

"BLACK SHEEP," the leading attraction today and tomorrow. Things begin to happen in the very first scene of "Black Sheep." Even before you are comfortably seated you will find yourself neck-deep in interest in this dynamic drama of one of the most unusual that was ever staged in this or any other country. It is a picture based upon the war between the cattlemen and the sheep-herders and it was a gentlemen's war, either.

The hobnob of these hostilities was in Wyoming, the locale of this picture, and before it ended many lives were lost and thousands of dollars worth of sheep and cattle were destroyed.

Not least in the story of this production, which exert any of his previous efforts, both in historical and artistic effects. He is supported by an exceptionally clever cast, which makes this one of the best western productions ever shown at the Paramount Theatre.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE U. P. TRAIL," a picturization of Zane Grey's greatest novel, is being shown today and will also be presented tomorrow as the feature picture. Roy Stewart is an attractive hero but in Kathlyn Williams go the honors because of her splendid emotional interpretation of a difficult role, that of a hardened divorcee, softened for a fleeting moment by a flash of true love. The sum of values in "The U. P. Trail" are those of western-made drama, plus a well chosen cast of great power and subordination of treatment which places it among the best pictures of the day. The picture takes us back to perilous adventure when American men, surveying for a trail of iron across the country, it admirably typed.

BEEHIVE OUTPUT DECLINES, COAL ON THE INCREASE

Coal Production for Week Ending August 13, 6,000 Tons Below Previous.

DEFINITE TURN IN COAL

The slight improvement in production of beehive coke during the two preceding weeks was not maintained in the week ended August 13, says the weekly review of the United States Geological Survey. The total output declined 6,000 to 40,000 net tons, the decrease was practically confined to Pennsylvania.

Cumulative production during 1921 to date stands at 5,056,000 net tons, or 25 per cent of that of 1920.

Production by states, as compared with the corresponding week of 1920, in net tons, was:

Pennsylvania and Ohio, 1921, 1920
West Virginia, 1921, 1920
Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia, 1921, 1920
Virginia and Kentucky, 1921, 1920
Colorado, Oklahoma and New Mexico, 1921, 1920
Washington and Utah, 1921, 1920

U. S. Total, 1921, 1920
Daily average, 1921, 1920

Coal Output Gains.

Over the first time in two months the production of soft coal has turned definitely upward. The output during the second week of August is estimated at 7,720,000 net tons. Not only was this an increase of 551,000 tons over the output of the week preceding, it was the largest attained in any week since June 11.

How far the present rate of production is below that in other recent years is shown by the fact that in the corresponding week of 1917 over 10,000,000 tons were produced; in 1918 the figure was 11,700,000 tons; a year ago it was 11,812,000. In 1919, a dull year for the coal trade, the corresponding week showed 9,200,000 tons.

Even in 1914, a year of business depression, the August output averaged 8,500,000 tons a week. Before the current rate of production can equal even the 1914 rate it must be increased another million tons a week.

The following statement, furnished by the American Railway Association, shows the number of cars loaded daily: Monday, August 8, 26,452; Tuesday, August 9, 25,533; Wednesday, August 10, 26,434; Thursday, August 11, 26,187; Friday, August 12, 26,105; Saturday, August 13, 16,402.

Preliminary reports indicate that loadings on Monday and Tuesday of the week, August 22-23, totaled 51,202 cars, a slight decrease when compared with the corresponding days of the week preceding.

Lake Shipments.

The gradual decline in movement of soft coal from the lower Lake ports, which began early in July, continued during the week ended August 13. Reports from the Ore & Coal Exchange show that total dumpings in that week were 662,141 net tons against 708,981 tons in the preceding week and 1,140,121 tons in the week ended July 3. When the decline commenced. Of the total dumpings, 638,068 tons were cargo coal and 24,072 tons for vessel fuel.

The present rate of dumpings over the Lake Erie docks is much below the rate at this time for the seasons of 1917, 1918 and 1920. In the corresponding week of 1920, for example, 994,325 tons were dumped, and in 1918, about 1,455,000 tons. The present rate, however, exceeds that in 1919, and because of the exceptionally heavy movement in the early part of the season, the cumulative dumpings for 1921 to date still lag those of the preceding years. The total since the opening of navigation now stands at 11,789,911 net tons and is well ahead of any of the preceding three years, even exceeding 1918 when as now the Lake movement was heavy in the first half of the season.

New England Receipts.

June receipts of both anthracite and bituminous coal in New England showed an increase. The total quantity of anthracite received from January 1 to June 30, according to the Massachusetts Fuel Administration, was 1,394,000 net tons, a million tons ahead of the same period in 1920, and a million and a half ahead of 1919. Judged by experience, therefore, the present position of New England with respect to anthracite appears favorable.

Cumulative receipts of bituminous coal, totalling $273,000 tons for the first year, compare favorably with former years. In the first half of 1915, for example, 12,400,000 tons of soft coal were delivered. In 1920, a year when New England consumers had difficulty in obtaining coal, the half-year receipts were 9,425,000 tons. The decrease during the present year is principally if not entirely due to the effect of the business depression in curtailing consumption. It is significant that in comparison with 1919 alone last year in the New England coal trade, 1921 shows even a slight increase.

Exports From Hampton Roads.

The slackening of foreign demand since the end of the miners' strike in Great Britain is reflected in the continued decline of exports of soft coal from Hampton Roads. Reports from the three coal exchanges at that port, which handled nearly 75 per cent of the total overseas tonnage during June, show that only 60,000 net tons for export and foreign bunkers were dumped in the week ended August 13. This was but 22 per cent of the weekly rate in June when the export movement was at its height.

Rolling Mill Men Return.

The American Rolling Mill company plant at Zanesville, O., has put on 400 men on additional orders for steel sheets. The and brick plants are being forced to larger than they were.

TRIED MEDICINES OF ALL COUNTRIES

Harrisburg Man Says Tanlac Is Only Thing That Reached His Case; Health Fine Now.

"For the first time in 20 years I am what could be called a well man. Not only that but I feel more like a school boy than a man of 46 and I can give the reason in just one word—'Tanlac'." said Ben F. Cowen, night watchman for the Pennsylvania railroad at Second and Mulberry streets freight depot. Mr. Cowen is well known and highly respected, especially in fraternal circles, being a past officer of City Lodge No. 131, I. O. O. F., and a member of Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 8, Harrisburg, Pa. In giving further details of his experience he said:

"My long spell of ill health began with Manila fever which I contracted while fighting for Uncle Sam in the Philippines. I was laid up in a hospital near Manila for three years and ever since I suffered from indigestion and rheumatism. I tried everything I ever heard of, including the medicine of all the countries I visited, which is almost every country on the globe, but I was never able to find anything that gave me real relief."

"Tanlac was a big surprise to me when it proved to be just what I needed. I can eat anything now, haven't a pain or an ache and I have gained 10 pounds in weight, too. I just feel like a new man. If anything ever gets wrong with me again I will certainly make a bee-line for the drug store and call for Tanlac. It's the best in the world."

"Tanlac is sold in Connellsville by the Connellsville Drug Co., and leading druggists everywhere. Advertisment."

Baby's Sore Chafed Skin

The Cause of Untold Misery Nurse Tells How to Avoid It

Philadelphia, Pa. — Sykes Comfort Powder has been used on this little boy with great success in keeping his skin free from chafing, scalding, rashes and soreness, which is the cause of so much misery among children. In my eleven years work as a nurse I have never found anything to equal Sykes Comfort Powder for this purpose. — Lottie E. Sloper, Nurse, 2011 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in healing and preventing chafing, scalding, rashes and skin irritations is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. Physicians and nurses call it "Witching Wonder."

STORE NEWS

N. PITTSBURG STREET

And what of the new Fall Suits?

A SLENDER, youthful silhouette: a simple severity of tailoring; a wide choice of fabrics and a marked reduction in price—there you have the Fall Suit situation in a nut shell.

And from Parisian Boulevard to Crawford Ave., all women have united in welcoming the slightly longer and wider skirt, the trim tailored sleeve and close fitting shoulder that characterizes this comprehensive exhibit of Fall models now on display on the second floor.

Moussine, Twill cord, Duvet de Laine, Ramona (fabrics as warm and clear as their names) are the materials. Malay, Sorrento blue, Marhol, Navy, Taupe, Black and Brown reign among the colors.

There are sizes enough (16 to 49 misses and ladies with ample provision for the woman of generous proportions) to assure everyone the attainment of her heart's desire. The prices range from $49.75 up—with special and unusually attractive showings at from $65 to $75.

Those Specials in the basement

HERE'S where everything's a-bustle. Kettles, knives, housefurnishings excitedly wondering who their new mistress will be. For they know that these unusual prices mean a change of scenery for them.

Easy Seal quart Fruit Jars, $1.25 doz.
Aluminum Kettles, 8 qt. Were $5.15, now $2.50
White Enamel Kettles, 10 qt. 89c
Jelly moulds and glasses 5c ea.
Supreme Cold Pack Jar Rings 8c box
Faring knives, good quality 15c ea.
Dish Mops (for washing fruit jars) 5c ea.

"Skirts popular this Fall"

HOW could they help but be when the second floor holds such a colorful collection of them?

As for details—pleats are back again with a vengeance. The most popular material is Primella Worsted—bright and light and most desirable yet yielding not an inch in durability.

Sizes range from 25 to 34; prices from $9.75 to $16.75. (Last year this same type of skirt cost from $16.75 to $35. Yes, prices have come down!)

In the market

A demonstration of the new Cerio process of mulling jams and jellies will be held next Saturday in the market. And there are also a lot of empty vinegar and pickle barrels that are being offered for sale.

That Hat!

HAVE you thought of it yet—that new hat you'll need for Fall?

Well, rest easy for our Hat Chief is even now "spotting" to New York in search of all that's new and timely amongst the millinery in Gotham.

She'll be back by Sunday, and then—good news for all of us!

In the New York Times we found it. All about Mlle. Langton, the French tennis star, complaining because she's already been asked 405 times whether skirts will be longer this season.

The bad news hasn't a Fashion Exhibit like that on the second floor to refer her friends to. Easy enough to find out what's what up there!
